

Directions and Parking

Conference Attendees who are traveling in for the conference may park at Auburn University's Jule Collins Smith Museum of Fine Arts. You will not need any parking tags to park there and do not need to check in with the museum when you arrive. The address listed is below so that you can identify directions from your current location.

Jule Collins Smith Museum
901 South College Street
Auburn, AL 36849

An Auburn University transit (the charcoal line) will be available to transport you directly to Auburn's campus. The transit picks up every 10 – 15 minutes and it takes approximately 12 minutes to get from the museum to Spidle Hall where a conference representative will be waiting for you with a sign to direct you across the street to the Student Center.

If you have any questions or if you have accessibility needs that makes this parking plan not optimal for you please contact us at lc@auburn.edu and we will happily make alternative arrangements for you.
